"Tinkers" is a Pulitzer prize winning novel by American author ,Paul Harding .The novel also won 2010 PEN/Robert W Bingham prize.Tinkers ,is an elegiac meditation on love,loss and the fierce beauty of nature.It is about the legacy of consciousness and the porousness of identity from one generation to the next.It is a skillfully written novel which contains grand and intricate ideas.

Paul Harding tells the stories of George Washington Crosby , an elderly clock repairer and his father Howard. On his deathbed George remembers his father who was a tinker selling household goods from a donkey-drawn cart and who struggled with epilepsy. A methodical repairer of clocks, he is now finally released from the usual constraints of time and memory to rejoin his father, an epileptic, itinerant peddler, whom he had lost 7 decades before. In his return to the wonder and pain of his impoverished childhood in the backwoods of Maine, he recovers a natural world that is at once indifferent to man and inseparable from him, menacing and awe inspiring. The book takes through both George's life as well as his father, Howard ,who sells household goods from a wagon in New England. George's skill at fixing clocks becomes a metaphor for life's beauty as well as fragility. It is about Howard's struggle with epilepsy as well as his own relationship with his father who was a minister who fell ill when Howard was a boy. It is a novel that is not only about death but the gift of simple pleasures of nature and being in the world and about fathers and sons connections.
